

Information and Communications Technology Higher Education in Tunisia: Perspective of a Twice Fulbright Scholar

by

Doris G. Duncan

California State University, East Bay

Abstract

The Fulbright program is an international exchange for scholars and is sponsored by the Bureau of Education and Cultural Affairs and the Council for International Exchange of Scholars. The process of obtaining a Fulbright Specialist grant and highlights of the final report for the Tunisian host institution will be presented.

Key words: Fulbright scholar program, Fulbright senior specialist, Fulbright specialist, information and communication technology (ICT) education in Africa